2010 Progress Report
a report to the legislature and our community

West Virginia Lottery
25 YEARS
1986 - 2011
25 Years of Winning

It is hard to believe that it has been 25 years since the Lottery was introduced in West Virginia. During this time the Lottery has transformed from an organization selling traditional lottery products such as Instant ticket scratch-offs to a full array of gaming including four racetrack casinos, a limited gaming facility, as well as limited video lottery at more than 1,500 locations across the state.

The Lottery has generated more than $15 billion in sales during this time and has continued to be a critical economic driver with more than $5.2 billion transferred to the State of West Virginia. Funding from the West Virginia Lottery has built hundreds of schools, provided an opportunity for thousands of high school seniors to attend college, put meals in the homes of thousands of Seniors, created economic development opportunities which have translated into thousands of jobs, and enhanced tourism bringing in visitors to the state from the world over.

The Lottery has been so much more than gaming, and it is our hope that this report will help you better understand the importance of Lottery dollars and how those dollars are distributed. In closing, I would like to thank everyone who has supported the Lottery’s efforts over the past 25 years, and give a special thanks to the employees of the Lottery who work hard to make this possible for our State.

Sincerely,

John C. Musgrave
West Virginia Lottery Director

Where Does The Money Go?

Schools and Education

In the past year, Lottery dollars once again made a substantial difference in the quality of our children’s education and, in turn, their lives. In fiscal year 2010, $158 million in Lottery revenue was put to exceptional use in the West Virginia educational system.

Because the goal of our state is to have our college-bound seniors attend in-state institutions, the PROMISE Scholarship program – which awards scholarships to qualifying students attending West Virginia colleges and universities – received substantial Lottery funding. Additionally, Lottery revenue has helped purchase more than 110,000 school computers since 1990. The computers both facilitate the students’ schoolwork and keep them current with advances in technology, benefiting them significantly when they enter the workforce.

“\nIn total, West Virginia education programs received more than $158 million from Lottery revenue in 2010.\n”

FAST FACTS:
• In fiscal year 2010, the PROMISE scholarship program received $29 million to provide higher education opportunities for many high school graduates across the state.

• An additional $37 million in Lottery proceeds went to the West Virginia School Building Authority for building and improving schools throughout the state.
In fiscal year 2010, more than $466,000 in Lottery revenue was distributed to support projects for West Virginia veterans.

Without question, West Virginia’s military veterans are among the most deserving recipients of Lottery funding. It is our privilege and pleasure to support those who have served us so honorably.

It was in 2000 that the West Virginia legislature secured Lottery funding for the state’s veterans with an amendment directing funds from a special instant ticket game. Since then, the initiative – the first of its kind in the state – has generated up to $1 million annually and helped fund both a skilled nursing facility and a cemetery for West Virginia veterans.

FAST FACTS:
- For nearly a decade, up to $1 million annually in Lottery funds have been dedicated to services that support West Virginia veterans.
- In the U.S. and Puerto Rico, the total veteran population is about 23 million, including more than 1.8 million female veterans. In West Virginia, the number of female veterans is about 11,700.
- Those 65 and older comprise nearly 40 percent of the U.S. veteran population.
For years, the West Virginia Lottery has played a vital role in creating a strong travel industry throughout the state. Proceeds from the Lottery provide the resources necessary for the West Virginia Division of Tourism to attract millions of tourists from around the world each year to our beautiful state.

During fiscal year 2010, nearly $7.6 million in Lottery proceeds were used to promote the state through both advertising and a matching grants program to tourism destinations statewide. Over the last 23 years, Lottery contributions have helped make tourism a nearly $4 billion driving force in West Virginia’s economy.

“On average, the Lottery contributes nearly $9.3 million annually to the West Virginia Division of Tourism.”

FAST FACTS:
- Since 1994, $162 million generated by Racetrack Video Lottery has been directed to advertising funds for the tourism industry.
- In fiscal year 2010, Lottery revenue appropriated to the Division of Tourism by the Legislature totaled $8 million. When added to appropriations for the Division of Natural Resources and the State Park Improvement Fund, the total was $16.1 million.
Where Does The Money Go?

Senior Citizens

One of the West Virginia Lottery’s key priorities is improving quality of life for the state’s senior citizens. In fiscal year 2010, $57.2 million in Lottery proceeds were put to work doing exactly that. Funds received by The West Virginia Bureau of Senior Services provided in-home health care that emphasized wellness, enhanced mobility and supplied meals to help seniors live independently at home for as long as possible.

Lottery dollars also supported Senior Centers, which provided activities and a place for friendship as well as meals for homebound seniors. Lottery funds also enabled the centers to purchase 55 specially equipped Hot / Cold Trucks now delivering meals to seniors in all 55 counties.

FAST FACTS:

- In fiscal year 2010, $7.5 million in annual fees paid by state racetracks funded a variety of much-needed, senior home-health care services.
- In addition, one-time license fees paid by the racetracks have helped to extend home-health care to those who are not typically eligible to receive assistance.
- While Lottery revenue initially helped Senior Centers purchase 28 Hot / Cold Trucks delivering meals to seniors in 34 counties, each of the state’s 55 counties now have the vehicles.

West Virginia’s senior citizens benefited from more than $64 million in Lottery revenue in 2010.
